

Witches and Warlocks, Squirrels and Ducks

This Halloween, you'll see all sorts of spooky creatures on the River Walk. While you might consider giving treats to the masked goblins, we'd ask that you don't give in to the furry and flying wildlife.

Feeding human treats to squirrels, pigeons, ducks and other wildlife that haunt the River Walk is really not good for them. When we feed the wildlife, we attract more animals than the habitat can support. And, too much wildlife means too much bacteria in the San Antonio River. Now that's really scary.
